Alton, N. H., Feb. 15, 1912

ANNUAL REPORT of the SUPERINTENDENT of SCHOOLS.

To the School Board and Citizens of Alton:

I herewith submit my fifth annual report as superintendent of your public schools.

ATTENDANCE.

The total membership of the schools increased eight pupils over that of the year preceding. This was mainly due to the larger number of beginners entering in the fall. The percent of attendance fell from 94 to 93, caused by the excessive absence following the epidemic of whooping cough during the winter term. The tardiness increased from 315 to 398 cases. Of this I speak later in the report.

REPAIRS.

The Bay school has been repainted inside and outside, minor repairs made and new seats installed suited to the needs of a primary school. The McDuffee building has been completely renovated, with new floor, new chimney, blackboards and single seats.

The toilet arrangements so much needed at the village building have been installed, the floor and walls of the basement cemented, and a cesspool prepared to receive the waste. The entire basement is now sanitary and well equipped to serve the needs of a building of its size.

Beside the usual minor repairs little will be needed the coming year. The outhouses at the Bay, Mountain and McDuffee buildings should be repaired and painted, and I would strongly recommend that sanitary drinking fountains be placed in the village building.

STATE AID.

Under the state aid law to which I referred in my report of 1910 Alton received this year $226 from the state. With our present teaching force and a daily attendance of at least 92 percent of our membership this allowance should amount next year to approximately $376, an increase of about $150.

REGULATIONS.

In order to regulate the social and athletic activities of the schools the following regulations have been adopted:

I. Except for the usual class play prepared and presented by the senior class of the high school and the annual Memorial Day dinner no school function, such as party, dance or entertainment of any kind, or any interscholastic or other athletic contest, shall be undertaken or contracted for by school or class without first receiving the approval of the school board.

II. No pupil whose work in any study becomes unsatisfactory, i. e., whose mark falls to "U," shall take part in any school activity indicated above until such deficiency has been made up and a satisfactory rating reattained. This rule shall also apply to deportment.

III. The principal shall have direct oversight or direction of all school activities.

I am sure the wisdom of this action will be apparent.

TARDINESS.

I have called attention from year to year to the abnormal tardiness in Alton schools, and have constantly urged its correction upon teachers and parents. To be sure it has improved, yet there still seems to be a feeling with many that the matter of being a little late several times a term is of very small consequence. I grant that each case in itself may be of small moment, but the continued practice invariably leads to a habit and a state of mind decidedly injurious in its consequences. The world today wants reliable workers who can be depended upon to the minute in word and action. This is the spirit the school is striving to promote, but the theory can never be made effective without the practice.

The number of cases of tardiness increased last year from 315 to 398 or 26 percent. Of our total membership 53 percent had no tardy marks for the year, 12 percent had one, and 11 percent had two. In other words 76 percent of the pupils had 65 tardy marks, 24 percent had 333 tardy marks. Sixteen pupils were credited with over one-half of the 398 cases. This seems to indicate conclusively that a few careless pupils or careless parents are responsible for our excessive tardiness. I want again to urge every reasonable effort to eradicate this pernicious habit from our schools.

EAST ALTON SCHOOL.

The school at East Alton was opened Monday, January 29, to be conducted for the present as a half-day school. Six pupils are now enrolled.

HIGH SCHOOL

Eight students graduated from the high school in June; fourteen, the entire grammar school class passing the entrance requirements, entered in September, also two from Gilmanton. Of the eight graduates, five have already entered higher institutions and one plans to do so in the fall. The class is now represented in Burdett Business College, New Hampshire State College, Plymouth Normal school, Simmons, and Wellesley.

Following is the table of this year's attendance.

	1st year	2nd year	3rd year	4th year	Total
Eentered in Sept. 1911,	16	5	5	6	32
Failed to pass previous year,	0	0	0	0	0

Membership in Feb. 1912,	13	5	5	6	29

The work of the school the past year has been excellent, meeting in full the requirements of the State Department of Public Instruction. The school has further been accepted by the New England College Entrance Board for a period of three years, certainly a notable recognition for a small high school. This entitles the Alton high school to a rating among the approved preparatory schools of New England and offers to its graduates the privilege of entering any college represented by the Board upon the certificate of the principal and without examination.

In general two ways are employed in estimating the efficiency of a school: First by the amount of work actually done in proportion to accepted standard requirements; second by the way in which that work is done. The first is a matter of quantity, the second of quality. It is the first that the state must chiefly use as a basis for its approval; it is very largely the second that entitles recognition from the College Entrance Board. Inquiry is made into the work of the past as well as of the present. The commendable records made by a majority of our graduates in the higher institutions they have entered no less than the present standard of the school has commended the school to the favorable consideration of the Entrance Board. The personal worth of these students combined with the strength of training the school has afforded and is now affording, have entitled us to the distinction of being one of the smallest schools the Board has ever recognized.

As a possible aid to parents and students in the selection of the higher institution which will be of most service a list of some of the principal institutions in New England is here given. For catalogues and information the registrar of the college or principal of the school should be addressed.

All the above institutions, except Harvard and Yale, admit upon certificate. To ensure the necessary rating for this privilege a student must maintain a high scholastic standing throughout his high school course and manifest a strength of purpose and a sound moral character. Students graduating but failing to meet the first of these requiremants are required to take the usual entrance examinations. At the Normal schools tuition is free to New Hampshire students. Normal schools outside the state charge a regular tuition fee

AN AGRICULTURAL COURSE

Our high school is now doing all that can reasonably be expected for those of its students contemplating a higher education It is fitting them for college and entering them without examination. But what of those who are to go no further? Is the school doing for them what it should?

In this connection I venture my recommendation of three years ago, that provision be made for the introduction of an agricultural course. Alton is in the midst of an agricultural community; approximately fifty per cent of her high school students come from homes on the farm. I firmly believe there is a demand for such a course; not in purpose to furnish trade instruction—that must be done by college—but to meet the child on the ground of his nearest interests and offer to him a cultural training centered about those interests, also to offer to those finding little that is attractive in the classical courses a vital link that connects with the realities of life. Such a course I believe would bring the work of the school into closer touch with that of the community which it is intended to serve, would result in a larger number taking advantage of a high school course, and in later years in a greater percentage of the young people of the town remaining at home to add to its wealth and influence. Such a course would require the services of an extra teacher, a graduate of an agricultural college, also the use of a plot of tillable land reasonably near the school building. Very little other equipment would be required the first year. I believe there could be no more favorable time than the present for beginning this work. The town will receive next year an increase of approximately $150 from the state, and no further outlay for permanent improvements or extensive repairs will be required for several years. Then again there will doubtless be in the school next year a larger number than ever before who would be attracted and benefited by this work.

Following in brief is the curriculum I should recommend:

I YEAR		II YEAR
Agriculture	5 periods a week	Horticulture	5 periods a week
Algebra	5 "	Geometry	5 "
English	5 "	English	5 "
Ancient History	5 "	French	5 "
III YEAR		IV YEAR
Animal Husbandry	5 "	Farm Management	5 "
Physics	5 "	Chemistry	5 "

REORGANIZATION.

It has been only in recent years that a serious attempt has been made toward placing educational administration and schoolroom practice upon a scientific basis. Much has been taken for granted because it used to be so; little new has been attempted because the subject was so little understood. But a clearer knowledge of the principles of instruction and the psychological growth of the child seem to show two things: first that it is a waste of time and effort to begin formal education before the age of six, and second that too much time has heretofore been devoted to separate subjects that are really not separate at all, and which by their proper correlation and presentation at the right time in the child's development might save to the child from one to three years of his schooling, not to mention the saving in expense to the district.

Children entering school at five years of age enter too young. 30-50 percent of the first grade fail of promotion each year. Little of the work is understood, usually only enough to give that of the following year the appearance of review and therefore devoid of its vital interest. The child at this age is not psychologically competent to do the work required. In the second place the ninth grade has become recognized as a superfluous year, merely a "review of reviews" at an age when review is least effective and when new fields of study are teeming with interest. The state course of study has been for years an eight grade course. Less than half a dozen places in New Hampshire are now maintaining a ninth grade. Nowhere outside of New England is the grade to be found, and here only in the more conservative communities which still cling to the custom inaugurated back in the early years before the advent of the high school, when the "grammar" school prepared for "college." And even in these communities they are now being rapidly discontinued.

With reference to Alton my point is this, that our admission age be raised from five years to six years, and our grades be reorganized upon an eight-grade basis. I commend the matter to your careful consideration.

IN CONCLUSION.

In concluding let me say to parents that no more harmful influence can be conceived than that of a laxity of home control combined with a school criticism within the child's hearing. It leads the child to a disregard for authority and an assumed superiority of judgment, developing a type of conduct unbecoming and irresponsible, working irreparable injury upon himself and upon the entire school system. Let me say that your genuine support expressed in positive direction and firmness of parental management would add fifty percent to the real efficiency of your schools.

An estimate of the needed appropriations for the ensuing year is embodied in the financial report of the school board.

To both school board and teachers I would extend my hearty appreciation for kindly encouragement and support.

Respectfully submitted,

H. L. Moore, Superintendent.
